Diversity Management Plan

U.S. NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION
Vision Statement: NRC is an agency where all employees are valued and have an equal chance to succeed, thereby increasing organizational capacity to achieve the agency’s mission.

NRC’s Commitment to Diversity Management:
To enhance NRC’s ability to carry out its mission, the Commission continues to make diversity management a priority for all executives, managers, and employees. NRC’s diversity management strategy is based on a commitment from managers, supervisors, and employees at the individual, group, and organizational levels. Our goal is for all employees to support the Comprehensive Diversity Management Plan and its objectives. NRC is committed to being the employer of a highly-qualified, diverse, dedicated, and effective workforce. Pursuing this commitment will require being open to new ways of thinking about employee motivation and staff development.
The NRC Comprehensive Diversity Management Plan (CDMP) is meant to be a living document designed to promote strategies to increase NRC’s organizational capacity, guide decisions and practices that impact equal opportunity, and promote the principles of diversity management.

Managing diversity is an increasingly vital process that encompasses systems, policies, and practices. The more diverse the workforce becomes, the more challenges and opportunities there may be to manage people and processes effectively. We will evaluate progress to document and provide feedback and make adjustments, as needed. The CDMP will provide a systematic way to identify diversity challenges and focus management attention on them.

The CDMP is intended to provide a roadmap for NRC to become an agency where all employees are valued and have an equal chance to succeed. The Plan will enable the agency to measure, monitor, and assess progress in diversity management. The CDMP sets expectations, and managers and staff must be engaged in order for the agency to make progress. As senior management leads by example and fosters the behaviors that support a diverse and inclusive workplace, staff will have the confidence to follow their lead, and substantive progress will be made. Successfully managing a diverse workforce will increase NRC’s organizational capacity in achieving the agency’s mission.

Luis A. Reyes
Executive Director for Operations
It is the policy of the NRC to foster equal opportunity for all employees and to promote principles of diversity management that will enhance the level of effectiveness and efficiency of its programs. The concept of diversity management is a strategic business objective that seeks to increase organizational capacity in a workplace where the contributions of all employees are recognized and valued. NRC’s goal is to build a high-performing, diverse workforce based on mutual acceptance and trust. It is also NRC’s policy to select the best qualified applicant for the job, regardless of race, national origin, gender, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor.

The Commission and senior management support the development of a Comprehensive Diversity Management Plan to guide diversity management initiatives and the development of appropriate measures to document how well the agency is achieving its diversity management objective. The Comprehensive Diversity Management Plan represents a structured approach to ensure continued progress in reaching its diversity management goals, promoting a discrimination-free work environment, and providing opportunities for all employees to use their diverse talents to support the agency’s mission.
The goal of diversity management is to enable all employees to reach their full potential in pursuit of the organization’s mission. This includes fostering an environment where diversity is commonplace and enhances execution of the agency’s objectives. Diversity management means creating a workplace where differences in heritage, background, style, tradition and views are valued, respected and used to increase organizational capacity. As the workforce becomes more diverse and the environment more open to new ideas and ways of thinking, organizations have found that employees and teams become more effective in processing information, solving problems, and contributing to the organization’s mission.

Initial Approach
This Comprehensive Diversity Management Plan represents the agency’s initial approach to establish comprehensive diversity management goals and measures, and allows for periodic review of agency accomplishments to determine future focus areas. The Plan is based on the best information currently available about NRC’s internal environment and will be reevaluated every 3 years, or as needed.
II. Current Environment

Agency leadership is assessing the agency’s achievements in meeting its diversity management objectives. The following are examples of recent progress in this area:

- Recruiting a pool of diverse applicants resulted in a more diverse pipeline for supervisory and management positions.
- Selecting a pool of diverse candidates for leadership and executive development programs enhanced the potential for diverse pools of candidates for senior positions.
- Implementing revised EEO and diversity management performance standards in the Senior Executive Service performance management system enhanced uniformity in evaluating accomplishments in this area.
- Implementing an effective Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) program helped to reestablish lines of communication between staff and management.
- Ensuring that all agency managers, supervisors, and team leaders completed the required EEO and diversity management training enhanced awareness.

- Developing a CDMP to help increase NRC’s organizational effectiveness and efficiency.
- Establishing a communication Web link has provided employees information regarding organizations that provide assistance to address their concerns.
- Providing offices diversity management contract support to assist in addressing organizational concerns.
- Implementing the NRC’s procedures enabled the prompt and effective processing of requests for reasonable accommodation by employees with disabilities.
- Providing statistical information on the NRC’s Website in compliance with the Notification and Federal Employee Anti-discrimination and Retaliation Act of 2002 (No FEAR Act).
- Developing anti-harassment procedures that promote reporting and prompt processing of allegations of harassment based on race, gender, age, disability, national origin, religion, sexual orientation, or other forms of prohibited discrimination.
A Top-Down Business Imperative
The principles of diversity management are embedded in NRC’s Strategic Plan, Organizational Values, Performance Plan, SES Performance Management System, Affirmative Employment Plan, and the Human Capital Strategic Plan. The schematic below shows the integration of diversity management into NRC’s key systems. This integration provides the means to bring diversity management into the core of the agency’s business, daily operations, and planning processes. Attachment 1 summarizes areas where NRC’s key systems reflect the principles of diversity management.

The establishment of agency-wide diversity management goals in this Plan will ensure a common focus for management and staff. A variety of strategies (examples provided in Attachment 2) may be implemented at an office level to support individual office diversity management as well as to contribute to progress in achieving the agency-wide diversity management goals. As each office assesses its organizational and diversity management needs, adding appropriate strategies in its office operating plan may also be considered. Agency level accomplishments will be monitored by the offices of Small Business and Civil Rights (SBCR) and Human Resources (HR) to assess progress and develop periodic status reports. SBCR and HR will also develop a validation and verification strategy for the measures contained in this CDMP.

Diversity management links to the following NRC key planning systems are explained in more detail below:

NRC’s Organizational Values

NRC’s Organizational Values serve as a guide to decision-making and individual conduct. They indicate qualities NRC endorses and how NRC will conduct critical work efforts as well as how it will value and treat its employees. Each of the values embodies the diversity management and inclusion initiatives.

- Integrity — in our working relationships, practices and decisions.
- Excellence — both in our individual and collective actions.
- Service — to the public, and others who are affected by our work.
- Respect — for individuals’ roles, diversity, and viewpoints.
- Cooperation — in the planning, management, and work of the agency.

Performance Plan
The NRC Performance Plan incorporates the diversity workforce goals of sustaining a high-performing, diverse workforce and achieving a level of workplace diversity that compares favorably with the relevant national labor market.

- build diversity
- communicate effectively
- demonstrate personal leadership
- build capability
- coach
- mentor
- develop
- motivate
Affirmative Employment Plan

The NRC Affirmative Employment Plan includes four Guiding Principles that embody the principles of diversity management. They include:

- Creating a working environment that is free of discrimination, including harassment, and is accessible to individuals with disabilities;
- Ensuring that agency policies, processes, and procedures provide all employees the opportunity to participate in mission accomplishments, and to compete fairly and equitably for career enhancement and advancement;
- Employing a competent and highly skilled workforce, consistent with the national labor market, and enabling employees to accomplish the agency’s mission by providing support, tools, and a positive environment; and

The CDMP builds on the Guiding Principles of the Affirmative Employment Plan and specifically details those actions that management needs to take to make diversity and inclusion a reality at NRC.

Human Capital Strategic Plan

The agency has established several human capital goals which are embodied in the Human Capital Strategic Plan. The following goals link to the CDMP:

- Develop the agency’s current and future leaders.

- Foster a work environment that is free of discrimination and provides opportunities for all employees to optimally use their diverse talents in support of the NRC’s mission and goals.
- Use innovative recruitment, development, and retention strategies to achieve a high quality, diverse workforce with the skills needed to achieve our mission.

Office Operating Plan

The office operating plans include activities that management plans to achieve during the fiscal year consistent with the NRC’s Performance Plan and Strategic Plan. The operating plans take the overall goals in the Strategic Plan and specify actions that will be taken to accomplish the goals. Several areas are delineated in the operating plans to highlight the diversity and inclusion initiatives.
